

Small Group Studies

Each Wednesday at 11 am in the church parlor Pastor Steve leads a small group study. The studies range from “Martin Luther” to “The Book of Revelation.” Pastor Steve brings the unique Evangelical Lutheran Church interpretations of what it means to be a Lutheran in today’s society. Based upon Bible Study and other religious literature the studies explore Christianity and its application today.

Accept Pastor Steve’s gracious invitation to open yourselves to the presence of Jesus and in doing so you will find joy and peace of spirit through these studies. If you’ve ever been “Gathered in the Word” as a participant in a Small Group Study on the bible or an aspect of our Christian life and faith, then you know that a Small Group offers so much more than learning. It is also about spiritual growth, and growth in relationships as well. Through Small Group gatherings around scripture and faith matters, people that have known each other for years have found a new depth of relationship.
